Y Numb. 562

The Daily Courant.

Wedneſday, February 2 1704.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Jan. 22.

Ratisbon, Januarp 10.

THE Miniſter of the States General deliver'd a Memorial to the Diet a few days ago, in the Name of their High Mightineſſes, which in ſubſtance repreſents to them the Neceſſity of taking very vigorous Reſolutions in ſo dangerous a Juncture of Affairs; and adviſes them to make choice of ſome other City to hold the Diet in, becauſe while this Town is in the Hands of the Bavarians, they cannot act with that Liberty which is requiſite. The Diet has reſolv'd to anſwer this Letter.

From the Hague Gazette, dated Jan. 28.

Ratisbon, Jan. 17. On the 14th the Miniſter of the Elector of Mentz, produc'd a Copy of a Letter written by the Emperor to the Elector of Mentz, concerning the Neutrality of this City; it is dated Dec. 23. and is in ſubſtance as follows: 'That provided the 'Elector of Bavaria will withdraw all his Troops 'out of this City, and give an Aſſurance that he will 'make no new Enterpriſe againſt it; that is to ſay, 'he will not put a Garriſon into it, nor conveigh any 'Soldiers into it, either by Land or Water; the 'Emperor, at the Requeſt of the Diet, and with the 'Conſent of his good Allies that are not of the 'Empire, promiſes on his part to make no Attempt 'againſt this City, to put no Garriſon into it, nor 'to make any manner of Uſe of it to the Prejudice 'of the Bavarians, provided this City do nothing 'contrary to the Duty owing to his Imperial Ma'jeſty and the Empire. This Letter imported further, That his Imperial Majeſty, again exhorted the Circles to furniſh Philipsbourg with Stores of Ammunition, and that he hoped they would have greater Regard to this Exhortation than they have ſhew'd to his former on the ſame ſubject. And, as for the Union of the Empire, the Emperor propos'd, that to redreſs the Grievances about Religion, Deputies ſhould be nam'd by each Party, with whoſe Arbitration they ſhould oblige themſelves to acquieſce.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 31.

Ratisbon, Jan. 21. Yeſterday the Diet took into Conſideration the Emperor's Letter concerning the Neutrality of this City; and after mature Deliberation, it was reſolv'd by the three Colleges, that the Envoy of Bavaria ſhould have a Copy of it deliver'd to him, and ſhould be deſir'd to ſend it to his Maſter by an Expreſs, that they might have his Electoral Highneſs's Reſolution upon it, as ſpeedily as poſſible; the Diet being very deſirous to have the Bavarian Troops withdrawn out of this City, becauſe the Soldiers have a contagious Diſtemper among them, which may in a little time reach the Deputies themſelves. Accordingly an Extract of this Reſolution, and a Copy of the ſaid Letter, were communicated to the Bavarian Envoy, who has ſent them to his Maſter, and we expect his Anſwer with the utmoſt Impatience. 'Tis reported that Miniſter took Exception at one paſſage in this Letter, in which the Emperor uſes the Expreſſion, The Elector of Bavaria and his Adherents, pretending that his Imperial Majeſty ought to have ſtil'd the King of France his Maſter's Ally; 'tis ſaid likewiſe he makes other Exceptions, but the Emperor having ſignified to the Elector of Mentz, that he is abſolutely determin'd to put an End to this Affair, 'tis not doubted but his Imperial Majeſty will make any reaſonable Alterations.

Dreſden, Jan. 23. The General Diet of the Eſtates of Saxony was open'd on Sunday the 20th inſtant, with the uſual Ceremonies. The King of Poland our Elector, demanded of them a Subſidy of 1500000 Crowns, which 'tis believ'd will be granted him, and then his Majeſty will give out Commiſſions for raiſing ſeveral Regiments to recruit his Forces.

Hamburg, Jan. 25. They write from Brunſwick, that Duke Rudolphus Auguſtus lies dangerouſly Sick at Hedwisburg; and a report is ſpread that he is dead, of which we ſhall ſoon know the certainty. A ſort of Manifeſto has appear'd in Print here, which Count Berezeni has caus'd to be diſpers'd in Moravia, in which that Count, after alledging ſeveral Reaſons to juſtifie his taking Arms, 'repreſents to the Eſtates 'and People of Moravia, that his Intention is not to 'ruin the Provinces bordering on Hungary, but rather 'to protect them; wherefore he exhorts them not to 'oppoſe the Execution of his Deſigns by any Act of 'Hoſtility, but on the contrary to joyn their Hearts 'and Hands with his, to obtain a glorious Liberty; 'he promiſes Aſſiſtance in the Name of Prince Ra'gotski, to thoſe who ſhall take Arms for him; and 'tells them, he expects of the Towns and Places 'that cannot well joyn their Arms with his, that they 'will at leaſt furniſh him with Ammunition: But 'threatens, if they refuſe to do either one or t'other, 'to ravage their Country with Fire and Sword. This Manifeſto is ſign'd by Count Berezeni at his Camp near Senche, and bears date Dec 15. 1703.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 29.

We expect the Arrival of two Regiments of Hollanders to day, to reinforce our Garriſon. Hamburg, Jan. 23. They write from Berlin, that on the 18th the King of Pruſſia's Coronation-day was celebrated with great Rejoycings, and the ſame day his Pruſſian Majeſty created two Knights of the Order of the Black Eagle, viz. the Hereditary Prince of Bareith, and the Margrave of Anſpach. Theſe Letters add, that the Duke of Saxe Gotha, who is arriv'd at that Court, has great Honours done him; and that 'twas diſcours'd he will be made Generaliſſimo of the Swediſh Army, Governour of Pomerania, and is to marry the Dutcheſs Dowager of Holſtein.

in March next, A good number of Spaniſh Troops are arriv'd upon the Frontiers of Portugal, their Men deſert apace.

The Captain of the Pacquet-Boat that brought this Mail writes, that ſoon after he came out of the Tagus, he ſaw an Engliſh Frigate and 3 or 4 leſſer Ships ſtanding towards that River, which 'tis ſuppos'd are the Panther, on board which is the Prince of Heſſe Darmſtadt, and ſome Tranſport Ships.
